The Herald of last week chronicled the death of John M Church, an old resident of South Sioux City, whose death occurred on Thursday morning, September 20th. On the following morning his aged wife, Mrs Sarah A Church, passed away, and they, who had shared life's burdens together for more than sixty years, were laid peacefully away in our grave in the Dakota city cemetery on Sunday. Mr and Mrs Church came to Dakota county from Wisconsin in the early 70's, and have resided in South Sioux City and vicinity during all this time. They had been in feeble health for some time and their taking away was not unexpected. They had both lived a long and useful life, he being 87 and she 79 years of age. A large family survives them—there being ten children and fifty-four grand children.

Van de Zedde is the happiest man in town since the telephone central office has been removed from his place of business. He now has more time to devote to the wants of his customers, and is flying around as though he never had the rheumatism. He is much better prepared to wait on his customers now, as he is free to give his entire attention to his own business, and is not hampered by the worry and trouble incident to caring for a telephone central office, as that has entirely disappeared. All his old customers have noticed the change, and they, with the new ones that are continually dropping in, will be given the best of attention and treatment. His store has just been remodeled and fixed up and presents a neat appearance with the new goods which have been displayed on his shelves. He is also displaying some fine pictures, already framed, that he is offering to his customers at prices that will close them out in short order. Drop in and get your choice before they are all gone.

Grace Hager is visiting at the A P Doran home in Emerson this week.

A double wedding occurred in Sioux City Wednesday when Arvid Sahlbom of Worthington, Minn, and Edith Waldman, of Emerson, were joined in marriage, also Viola Waldman, of Emerson, and Wilbur McEntaffer, formerly of Emerson but now located at Boone, Iowa.

Word was received here this week of the death of Mrs Leonard Bates, one of the pioneer residents of the county, who only a few years ago removed with her husband to Los Angeles, Cal, to reside. Her death occurred on the 21st inst. She was a woman well known and liked in this community and especially among the older residents.

To whom it may concern: All who are indebted to me for telephone toll service, will please call and settle their accounts. I wish to close up my accounts with the telephone company, as the telephone office has been removed from my place of business and I am no longer connected with the service. Some of these accounts have been standing for a long time, and you may have forgotten yours. Please call at my place of business and oblige, Yours truly, J Van de Zedde.

The first exclusive passenger train on the Ashland line of the Burlington left Sioux City at 12:05 p m Monday. The train consisted of a combination baggage, mail and express car, smoking car and a day coach. It is scheduled to arrive at Ashland at 4:35 p m. A parlor car will be added to the train in the course of a month or two according to the assistant general passenger agent for the Burlington. As soon as the track can be put in better shape a faster schedule will be made. About fifty passengers made the trip out of Sioux City on the first train. The time of arrival here will be a boon to the people of this place, who have been compelled to wait in Sioux City until evening for an opportunity to return home.

The Sioux City, Homer and Southern railroad was sold at sheriff's sale Wednesday to satisfy judgments amounting to about $14,000. Jos A Foye started the bidding at $15,000, and E A Burgess, for the bridge company, raised it to $16,500. Mr Foye raised it to $16,700, and the property was knocked down to him by Sheriff Hansen. Mr Foye deposited with the sheriff $2,000 as a guarantee until district court convenes, which will be on Monday next, when the sale can be confirmed. Mr Foye says that he will operate the road if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the combination bridge people and the franchise secured in this place and South Sioux City, that will warrant its operation.

Mrs David Waterman, one of the old and respected residents of Omaha precinct, died at her home near Homer, Sunday, of hernia, after a brief illness. She leaves a sorrowing husband, and a daughter, Mrs Marvius Armour, and a brother, D L Allen, of Sioux City. She came to this county in the 70's, when Mr Waterman took the tradership at Winnebago, and a few years later moved to Homer, where they conducted a store for several years. They purchased the old Moose Krops farm and since leaving the store business have made their home on the farm. Mrs Waterman leaves a host of friends and acquaintances who will remember her for her many acts of kindness and her genial hospitality. The funeral was held Monday from her late home, the remains being laid to rest in the Omaha Valley cemetery.

A very pretty wedding took place in the M E church at Pender, Neb, September 26, 1906, at 2 o'clock p m, when Leon L Ream and Miss Edna Merle Van Valen were joined in marriage, Rev Hughes, pastor of the M E church, officiating.

The bride looked very beautiful in a dainty white lace trimmed organdie, and carried a large bouquet of cream roses. The groom was attired in the usual conventional black.

The bridesmaids—Misses Pence Sconce and Myrtle Bigsby—in pink flowered organdie and carrying pink roses, were attended by R F Smith and Leslie Snyder.

The church was beautifully decorated in white and green.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the sweet strains of "Lohengrin," played by Miss Mary Easton, niece of the groom. The Episcopal ring service was used, little Eleanor Murray carrying the ring concealed in the heart of an American beauty rose.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr and Mrs Snyder, where over fifty guests were present to offer their congratulations to the newly wedded pair. Mr and Mrs Ream were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents. They will make their home in Pender and will go to housekeeping immediately, on Ivan street.
